

“Lord of Heaven and Earth:

I am bowing in the spirit and the flesh. Humbling myself before you, seeking our mercy, forgiveness, love, guidance, strength and your instruction.

Father, you gave your Son, Jesus so that I might live, prosper and reflect your majesty. In my life you have blessed me bountifully and I thank you.

Almighty and Omnipotent Father. Great and mighty God. Thank you for creating and sustaining my life, thank you for keeping me until this day. Precious Saviour forgive me. I acknowledge that I am an imperfect servant, one that can be confused by the many distractions that surround me in life. A sinner who fails without your strength. Lord I want to draw nearer to you. Show me great and wondrous things in the spirit. Help me to do as you request. To not resist your plans for my life.

Lord, help me to renew an upright spirit and relationship with you that I might be of great service to You. Bless me that I may complete the fast and draw close unto you. That I may prophesy by the guidance of the Holy Spirit with Christ-like accuracy. Father, bless me that spiritual and physical healing will flow through me into the lives and bodies of others as you see fit and for your glory.

Bless me so that the works that you are beginning in me might also be blessed and used for your glory. That one day you might look upon me from your high place, even from your throne and say ,I am well pleased.

In Jesus name. Amen.”
